AMICUS CURIAE BRIEF OF THE PUBLIC INTEREST LEGAL FOUNDATION IN OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION

Plaintiffs’ challenge to Kansas’ proof-of-citizenship requirement is based, in part, on two overarching flawed premises: (1) that federal law prohibits Kansas’ requirement, Am. Compl., Doc. 39, ¶¶ 91-94 and (2) that the requirement is “needless,” id. ¶ 1, and lacking in justification, id. ¶¶ 70-73. In fact, the proof-of-citizenship requirement concerns a qualification for voting in Kansas and, therefore, it is within Kansas’ constitutional authority to regulate. Moreover, as Kansas demonstrated in its response brief, the proof-of-citizenship requirement was promulgated to combat “the persistent problem of noncitizens registering to vote.” Defs.’ Mem. in Opp’n to Pls.’ Mot. for Prelim. Inj., Doc.59-1 at 9. Indeed, Kansas is addressing the problem of noncitizen voting that plagues states nationwide.

Herein, Amicus Curiae Public Interest Legal Foundation provides nationwide examples where the federal registration form (“Federal Form”), with the mere citizenship attestation “safeguard,” has failed to prevent noncitizen registration. Such problems have plagued the use of the Federal Form since its inception. The minimal requirements of the Federal Form have failed to keep aliens off the voter rolls and out of the voting booth. Kansas is taking the lead nationwide to prevent this criminal activity by ensuring that only American citizens vote in Kansas elections. Because Kansas’ proof-of-citizenship requirement was enacted within the state’s authority and with sufficient justification, Plaintiffs are unlikely to succeed on their challenge and, coupled with the points and authorities identified by Defendants in their response brief, Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Injunction should be denied.

I. The Proof of Citizenship Requirement Concerns the Qualification of Voters.

Plaintiffs claim that the proof-of-citizenship requirement offends the Elections Clause of the U.S. Constitution. Am. Compl., ¶¶ 91-94; Mem. in Supp. of Pls.’ Mot. for Prelim. Inj., Doc. 19-1, at 3, 13-15. But proof of citizenship is, by definition, a “qualification” for voting in Kansas. Those who cannot establish they are citizens are not qualified to vote. Those who can establish they are citizens are qualified to vote. Kansas, not Congress, has the authority to establish voter qualifications, including the power to ensure that the franchise is exercised only by citizens.

The Federal Constitution reserves to the States the power to control who may vote in federal elections. This power is expressly provided by the Voter Qualifications Clause, U.S. Const., Art. I, § 2, cl. 1 (election of Representatives), the Seventeenth Amendment (election of Senators), and U.S. Const., Art. II, § 1, cl. 2 (presidential electors chosen as directed by state legislatures). The plain meaning of these constitutional provisions is clear: “The Framers did not intend to leave voter qualifications to Congress.” Arizona v. Inter Tribal Council of Arizona, Inc., 133 S. Ct. 2247, 2263 (Thomas, J., dissenting) (“ITCA”).

The Constitution’s Election Clause gives Congress only limited power with respect to regulations concerning the “Times, Places, or Manner” of holding federal elections, in other words, how elections are held. U.S. Const., Art. I, § 4, cl. 1; ITCA, 133 S. Ct. at 2257 (“[T]he Elections Clause empowers Congress to regulate how federal elections are held, but not who may vote in them.”). Congress’ power to regulate how elections are held, however, is only superior to the States’ power to do the same when they differ. That is, Congress’ regulations only “supersede those of the State which are inconsistent therewith.” Id. at 2254.

The issue in ITCA was whether Arizona’s law that required election officials to “reject any application for registration that is not accompanied by satisfactory evidence of United States citizenship”—including the Federal Form—is inconsistent with the instruction of the NVRA that States “accept and use” the Federal Form. Id. at 2251. The Supreme Court decided that issue in the affirmative. Arizona’s law permitted election officials to “reject” the Federal Form altogether—to refuse to “accept and use” it—and thus, pursuant to the Election Clause, Arizona’s law had to give way because Congress’ regulation concerning registration via the Federal Form is superior. ITCA, 133 S. Ct. at 2257. “Times, Places, and Manner,” the Supreme Court noted in ITCA, encompasses regulations “relating to ‘registration’” of voters. Id. at 2253 (internal citations omitted).

Importantly, the ITCA opinion reaffirmed the States’ exclusive constitutional authority to determine who may vote, i.e., voter qualifications—which Congress may not preempt. ITCA, 133 S. Ct. at 2258 (“Nothing in [the Election Clause] lends itself to the view that voting qualifications in federal elections are to be set by Congress.”) (internal citations omitted). The present case concerns a voter qualification—the “who,” not the “how,” of elections.

ITCA acknowledged that “the power to establish voting requirements is of little value without the power to enforce those requirements.” 133 S. Ct. at 2258. The constitutional power to set voter qualifications must include the power to verify whether those qualifications are satisfied, lest the States’ constitutionally granted authority be merely aspirational. Id. at 2258-59 (“[I]t would raise serious constitutional doubts if a federal statute precluded a State from obtaining the information necessary to enforce its voter qualifications.”). Further, as is shown below, evidence of noncitizen registration bolsters the necessity of Kansas’ proof of citizenship requirement.

II. There is Evidence of Noncitizens Registering to Vote and Casting Ballots

Plaintiffs claim “[t]here is no evidence of a substantial problem of noncitizen registration or voting in Kansas.” Am. Compl., ¶ 79. According to Plaintiffs, the requirement merely causes “unnecessary hurdles” for registration. Mem. in Supp. of Pls.’ Mot. for Prelim. Inj., at 2. As Defendants explained in their response brief, though, this is not the case. See Defs.’ Mem. in Opp’n to Pls.’ Mot. for Prelim. Inj., at 9, 49-51, and 57. Specifically, Defendants “provided concrete evidence that multiple aliens have registered to vote when proof of citizenship had not been required at the DMV and that aliens have voted in past elections.” Id. at 57.

Unfortunately, such problems are not limited to Kansas. They are occurring around the nation and provide sufficient justification for Kansas’ proof-of-citizenship requirement.

A. The citizenship checkbox, even when checked “no,” does not prevent noncitizen registration without additional citizenship verification.

Taking the Federal Form as an example, the citizenship “safeguards” of the form are nothing more than an honor system. They include a checkbox at the top of the form, the words “For U.S. Citizens” on the cover page, and an attestation of citizenship by the signature box. See National Mail Voter Registration Form – English, available at http://www.eac.gov/assets/1/Documents/Federal%20Voter%20Registration\_6-25-14\_ENG.pdf. One ominous demonstration of the ineffectiveness of the citizenship checkbox at the top of the Federal Form comes from a small sample of materials collected from Harris County, Texas. See Exhibit A (Thirteen Federal Forms from the Harris County Tax Assessor Collector.)<sup>1</sup> In this sample, four of the individuals actually checked “no” on the citizenship question,<sup>2</sup> six checked “no” and “yes,”<sup>3</sup> and the remaining three left the checkbox blank entirely.

Yet each person was registered to vote by the local state government officials, as evidenced by the resulting voter registration numbers (VUID) listed on the defective forms. In an unrelated matter, the former Voter Registrar for Harris County, Texas (the county in which Houston is situated) testified before the U.S. Committee on House Administration in 2006 and stated that while the extent of illegal voting by foreign citizens in the county was impossible to determine, “it has and will continue to occur.” Noncitizen Voting and ID Requirements in U.S.

B. The citizenship affirmation does not prevent noncitizen registration and voting

Nor does requiring individuals to attest to their citizenship under penalty of perjury prevent noncitizens from registering and voting. For example, a Bosnian citizen recently “readily admitted registering and voting,” claiming that he did “not read the section of the voter registration form that includes the affirmations of citizenship.” Guilty Pleas Resolve All Five Voter Fraud Convictions in Iowa, DES MOINES REGISTER.COM (Dec. 15, 2013). In another example, just last November, Idalia Lechuga-Tena was appointed to the New Mexico state legislature and admitted to voting prior to becoming a U.S. citizen. DA reviews newly minted legislator’s admission of voter fraud, Santa Fe New Mexican (Nov. 12, 2015), available at http://www.santafenewmexican.com/news/local\_news/da-reviews-newly-minted-legislator-s-admission-of-voter-fraud/article\_220d67ab-60c9-5fb7-b14c-54c598ee0900.html. According to the report, Rep. Lechuga-Tena claimed that “she did not understand that she had to be a citizen to vote.” Id.

<sup>4</sup> Mr. von Spakovsky, a member of Amicus’s Board of Directors, is also a former member of the Federal Election Commission. Prior to that, he served as counsel to the Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights at the Justice Department.

C. Further examples of noncitizen registration

And those are not isolated incidents. Again, just last November, Rosa Maria Ortega, a noncitizen in Tarrant County, Texas, was indicted for repeatedly voting illegally. Non-U.S. Citizen Indicted For Voter Fraud In North Texas, CBSDFW.com (Nov. 9, 2015), available at <http://dfw.cbslocal.com/2015/11/09/voter-fraud-alleged-in-dallas-tarrant-counties/>. According to reports, Ms. Ortega “fraudulently registered to vote in Dallas County by claiming to be a U.S. citizen.” Id. It was that easy. The so-called citizenship “safeguards” of the Federal Form did nothing to deter Ms. Ortega from registering and voting.

Other states are starting to take notice of the national problem of noncitizen voting. Michigan Secretary of State Ruth Johnson recently asked her attorney general to investigate “10 people who aren’t U.S. citizens but have voted in past Michigan elections.” Michigan Investigation Sought of Non-Citizen Voting, ASSOCIATED PRESS (Dec. 6, 2013). And Ohio Secretary of State Jon Husted announced that he had found that 17 noncitizens “illegally cast ballots in the 2012 presidential election.” Eric Shawn, Non-citizens Caught Voting in 2012 Presidential Election in Key Swing State, FOX NEWS (Dec. 18, 2013). There is evidence in big and small elections, from admitted noncitizen voting in the Compton, California mayoral race, Daren Briscoe, Noncitizens Testify They Voted in Compton Elections, L.A. Times (Jan. 23, 2002), at B5, to hundreds of votes by noncitizens in the 1996 congressional contest between Republican incumbent Bob Doman and Democratic challenger Loretta Sanchez, see Mr. von Spakovsky Testimony, at 5.

More broadly, a 2005 Report from the Government Accountability Office found that up to three percent of the 30,000 individuals chosen for jury duty from voter registration rolls in just one U.S. district court over a two-year period were not U.S. citizens. Government Accountability

Office, Elections: Additional Data Could Help State and Local Election Officials Maintain Accurate Voter Registration Lists 42 (2005), available at www.gao.gov/assets/250/246628.pdf.

According to a study released in 2014 by several professors at Old Dominion University and George Mason University, approximately 6.4% of noncitizens voted in 2008 and 2.2% of noncitizens voted in 2010. Jesse T. Richman, Gulshan A. Chattha, and David C. Earnest, Do noncitizens vote in U.S. elections? Electoral Studies 36 (2014) 149-157. Mr. von Spakovsky outlines more examples in Chapter Five of his book, Who's Counting? How Fraudsters and Bureaucrats Put Your Vote at Risk (Encounter Books, 2012).

Disturbingly, the extent of noncitizen registration and voting is not easily quantified.

According to Mr. von Spakovsky:

Obtaining an accurate assessment of the size of this problem is difficult. There is no systematic review of voter registration rolls by most states to find noncitizens, and the relevant federal agencies—in direct violation of federal law—have either refused to cooperate with those few state election officials who seek to verify the citizenship status of registered voters or put up burdensome red tape to make such verification difficult.

Mr. von Spakovsky Testimony at 6.<sup>5</sup> While how many noncitizens are registering and voting may not be readily ascertainable, one thing is sure—it is happening. And it is happening despite the Federal Form's "safeguards." Thus, contrary to the Plaintiffs' assertion, there is a clear need for Kansas' proof of citizenship requirement.

D. The Absence of "Alternatives"

Plaintiffs refer to a litany of "alternatives" that Kansas may employ to prevent noncitizen registration and voting. See Amended Complaint at ¶ 73, Mem. in Supp. of Pls.' Mot. for <sup>5</sup> Defendant Kris W. Kobach testified before the same committee on the problem and reality of noncitizen registration and voting. Testimony of Kris W. Kobach, House of Representatives, Committee on Oversight and Government Reform, Subcommittee on National Security and the Subcommittee on Health Care, Benefits, and Administrative Rules at 1-3 (February 12, 2015), available at <http://oversight.house.gov/wp-content/uploads/2015/02/Kobach-Testimony-House-OCR-21215.pdf>.

Prelim. Inj., at 19 n. 6.<sup>6</sup> In addition to the reasons articulated by Defendants as to why such “alternatives” are ineffective, see Defs.’ Mem. in Opp’n to Pls.’ Mot. for Prelim. Inj., at 49-51, amicus would point out that Plaintiffs’ intimation that the Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements Program System of Records database (“SAVE”) database is readily available demonstrates the Plaintiffs’ lack of understanding of various states’ efforts to gain access to—and the federal government’s blocking of—citizenship verification measures.

To be sure, the SAVE database is a “fee-based intergovernmental initiative designed to help Federal, state, tribal, and local government agencies check immigration status when granting benefits, licenses, and other lawful purposes.” 76 Fed. Reg. 58525, 58526 (Sept. 21, 2011). One such lawful purpose is voter registration. See 76 Fed. Reg. 58525, 58527. But the United States has blocked states’ request to utilize the SAVE database to verify citizenship.

In 2012, for example, the State of Florida had to sue the United States in federal court in order to gain access to the SAVE database. Florida Dep’t of State v. U.S. Dep’t of Homeland Security, et al., No. 12-cv-00960 (D.D.C. 2012). Florida needed access to the database because it discovered that “non-citizens were registered to vote in Florida” and the State realized that it “only had a limited ability to validate a person’s citizenship status.” Id., Compl. ¶¶ 22-23 (D.D.C. June 11, 2012). Yet the Federal Government refused to provide access to the SAVE database, despite Florida’s frequent requests from August 2011 until the state finally filed suit the following June. See id. ¶¶ 25-46. Just over a month after Florida filed its lawsuit, the federal government finally relented and agreed to provide access to the SAVE database. Press Release, Florida Department of State Receives Commitment from U.S. Department of Homeland Security

<sup>6</sup> Plaintiffs’ reliance on a January 2014 memorandum from then-Acting Executive Director of the Election Assistance Commission, Alice Miller, denying Kansas’s request to modify its state-specific instructions on the Federal Form is unavailing as the Federal Form now reflects Kansas’s proof-of-citizenship requirement. See Defendants’ Memorandum in Opposition to Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Injunction at 14.

to Provide Access to Citizenship Database (July 14, 2012), available at <http://dos.myflorida.com/communications/press-releases/2012/florida-department-of-state-receives-commitment-from-us-department-of-homeland-security-to-provide-access-to-citizenship-database/>.

Not coincidentally, the Department of Justice's initial response to the lawsuit was not conciliatory but retaliatory, threatening a lawsuit of its own against the state. See Marc Caputo, Florida and feds sue each other over noncitizen purge controversy, Miami Herald (June 11, 2012), available at <http://www.miamiherald.com/news/politics-government/article1940509.html>. While Plaintiffs suggest that Kansas and other states have access to the SAVE database, the behavior of the United States emphatically undermines that claim.

III. The United States Justice Department has failed to enforce noncitizen voting prohibitions

Compounding the problem of noncitizen registration—and the need for the measures taken by Kansas—is the current Justice Department's refusal to prosecute noncitizens caught participating in American elections. The Department of Justice has shown itself to be impotent in enforcing federal laws that criminalize noncitizen registration and voting, despite its duty and authority to do so. See 52 U.S.C. § 20511(2) (fraudulent registration and voting under the NVRA); 18 U.S.C. § 1015(f) (false claims to register or vote); 18 U.S.C. § 911 (false claim of citizenship); and 18 U.S.C. § 611 (voting by aliens). For example, the Civil Rights Division's Voting Section and the Criminal Division's Election Crimes Branch were each alerted about, and provided copies of, the thirteen Federal Forms from Harris County, Texas discussed above, but no known action was ever taken. See, e.g., Kerry Picket, Former DOJ Official: Non-Citizens Registered to Vote through Motor Voter Registration Forms (April 8, 2015), available at <http://dailycaller.com/2015/04/08/former-doj-official-non-citizens-registered-to-vote-through-> motor-voter-registration-forms/ and Hans A. von Spakovsky, Election Fraud Uncovered by Patriotic Citizens...Who Promptly Get Sued (October 23, 2010), available at <http://pjmedia.com/blog/election-fraud-uncovered-by-patriotic-citizens-who-promptly-get-sued/>.

Unfortunately, that inaction is hardly an isolated occurrence. According to Mr. von Spakovsky:

In 2011, when I was still on the Fairfax County Electoral Board in Virginia, we discovered 278 individuals who had registered to vote despite telling the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles that they were not U.S. citizens. 117 of those noncitizens had “a history of voting in Virginia.”<sup>11</sup> We provided that information to both the U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia and the Public Integrity Section of the Justice Department. No action was taken to either investigate or prosecute these cases.

Mr. von Spakovsky Testimony at 4.

The Justice Department did not always largely ignore alien voting in American elections. In previous decades, the Justice Department prosecuted noncitizens for registering and voting in Alaska, Colorado, Florida, and North Carolina. Criminal Division, Public Integrity Section, U.S. Department of Justice, Election Fraud Prosecutions & Convictions: October 2002-September 2005 (2006). Sadly, this no longer appears to be the case. And that forbearance means other means must be taken to ensure election integrity. Indeed, the current Justice Department’s lack of action on noncitizen voting bolsters the reasonableness of, and in fact, the need, for Kansas’ proof of citizenship verification.

Conclusion

Kansas’ proof of citizenship verification is a commonsense answer to the problem of noncitizen registration. It will strengthen election integrity and instill voter confidence.

Plaintiffs have not shown that they are likely to succeed on his request for relief or that they will suffer irreparable harm absent an injunction. For those reasons and the ones highlighted in Defendants' Opposition, Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction should be denied.
